1. Applicant's communication filed on July 8, 2005 has been carefully studied by the Examiner. The arguments advanced therein are not persuasive and the rejections based upon prior art made of record in the previous office action are hereby maintained. This action is made final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over applicants admitted prior art and further in view of Rajarajan et al (NOVEL POLARIZATION-INDEPENDENT OPTICAL BENDS FOR COMPACT PHOTONIC INTEGRATED CIRCUITS, SBMO/IEEE MTT-S IMOC 1999).

Applicant's admitted prior art teaches all the claimed limitations except a polarization-independent bend. Rajarajan et al teach that by developing a bent waveguide at certain parameters, polarization-independent bend can be realized (see page 463 left column lines 16-18). Thus, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a predetermined bend in applicant's admitted prior art to make the device polarization-independent for optimum coupling efficiency.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed July 8, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Rajarajan et al teach a polarization-independent bend and the present invention is a polarization dependent bend thus it is not proper to replace the polarization-dependent bend of the present invention with the polarization independent bend of Rajarajan et al. The Examiner does not agree with this. Rajarajan et al clearly teach changing coupling ratio of TM and TE mode by changing waveguide parameters including bending radius and this makes the waveguide polarization independent. As applicant argues the bend of the present invention nulls a polarization dependence that occurs from the coupling portion. The Examiner believes this is same as the bend that makes the polarization independent waveguide of Rajarajan et al. Also please note that claim 2 recite one bend and Rajarajan et al clearly teach a bend.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
